

Rolling Pin Bakehouse

A neighbourhood bakery in Pune, open since 2014.

We bake sourdough, pav and celebration cakes every morning before six.

Everything is made in our own kitchen on Prabhat Road. Nothing is bought in.

Our flour comes from a mill in Salara that we have used for eleven years.

We do not use palm oil, and we do not use improvers or bread softeners.

Customers are mostly families within two kilometres who walk in on weekends.

A lot of them order the same loaf every week and know the staff by name.

We take custom cake orders with three days notice and a fifty percent advance.

Allergen information is written on every shelf card because it matters to us.

We close on Mondays. The kitchen is cleaned down completely that day.

Our prices are higher than a supermarket and we are comfortable saying why.

Good flour, real butter and a baker who has been doing this for twenty years.
